the title "History of Utah" from its origin to the present time. Colored alike by Mormons and Gentiles. Written without prejudice so you can see

UTAH AS IT IS!

Nothing so nearly approaches the miraculous as the rise of a new religion, founded by an illiterate man, in the poorest country in the world, and in the age which has given us the greatest inventions.

The finding of the plates, their translation, the first preaching, obtaining converts, founding of Nauvoo, origin of Polygamy, the exile from three states, founding a prosperous state in a desert beyond civilization, to be overtaken and passed by 40,000, the executive ability of Brigham Young, the struggle between Mormonism and the United States—this is as thrilling as a novel yet true history. Everybody wants it.

ADDITIONAL EXPOSITIONS.

Mrs. Pace, of Port Huron, is the guest of her daughter Mrs. E. F. Law, and her son O. L. Boice this week.

Postmaster Jones has caused to be erected a pole on the post office corner on which floats the stars and stripes each public holiday, and other special occasions.

Tappan and Law have set out 64 fine trees on their addition to the Village. Their plot is a valuable addition to Yale and is going to be a very desirable place for residences.

Phil McDougall, now a popular agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of N. Y., has been spending a few days in town taking a number of risks. Phil is a first class fellow, represents a first class company and should have first class success.

Jos. Gaffney, of Brown City, will give a grand ball and supper in his hotel this (Friday) evening. He will move out of the hotel next Monday, having traded the hotel for 80 acres of land north east of Brown City. He will quit hotel business and follow farming in the future.

Jas. H. Moore presents a change of adv. for the perusal of the readers of the EXPOSITOR in this issue. His large warehouse on Main-st is filled to overflowing with agricultural implements, wagons, buggies, etc., all standard makes and having the latest improvements attached. Call when in the village.

The head officers of the F. & P. M. R. R. were here Wednesday looking over the station house and grounds. They decided to add sixty feet to the east end of the station house, thereby giving more space for the office, freight and waiting rooms. In the rear of the depot the ground is very low which will be filled in with gravel.

Joe W. Selden, deputy collector of Internal Revenue for the fourth division of the First District of Michigan, will be at the Rapley house in Yale, on the 2d day of May, 1890, from 7 a. m. to 10 a. m., for the accommodation of special taxpayers. Taxpayers will be expected to be on hand promptly and also to make their own change.

A meeting of the stockholders in the National Loan and Investment Co. was held in Drake & Gillett's office Wednesday evening and the following officers elected: A. W. Ferguson, president; H. Andrews, vice-president; C. H. Nigeman, treasurer; G. S. Ney, secretary. Board of directors—B. R. Noble, W. V. Andrae, R. M. Lothian, J. C. Holden, James Wallace, J. D. Jones, and James Brown. E. H. Drake, attorney.

The stallion show held on the fair ground in this place last Saturday was not so much of a success as was anticipated—only ten entries being made. In the heavy draft class, "Mark Master," owned by Robt. Martin, of Crosswell, took first prize, and "Logie the Laird" owned by J. Kennedy, of Emmet, second. General purpose—"Dairy Chief" owned by L. Morrill, sr., Yale, first, and "Young Lord Haddo" the property of Jas. J. McGrath, Kenocoe, second. Carriage—"Cyclone" owned by Wm. C. Cooper, of Capar, first. The bad condition of the roads kept many away that would otherwise have been present.

Secretary Law of the County Board of Examiners has compiled a program of Arbor Day Exercises for the use of the schools of St. Clair County. This program is printed in a pamphlet of twelve pages, and the cost of printing and mailing has been paid by Port Huron firms who advertise in it, thus saving all expense to the County. A number of copies have been sent to every teacher in the County. It seems hardly necessary to urge the desirability and propriety of setting out trees on school grounds. It is hoped that teachers, pupils, officers, and patrons will take advantage of this fine set of exercises and plant trees as Mr. Law recommends; for to add refinement and beauty to school premises, means to refine and educate the natures of the pupils.

The last part of "Nathaniel Hawthorne's 'Elixir of Life'" is published in the April number of Lippincott's Magazine. This is a version, hitherto unpublished, of the theme of "The Bloody Footstep," also treated by Hawthorne in "Doctor Grimshaw's Secret," "Septimius Felton," "The Dolliver Romance," etc. Mr. Julian Hawthorne, by drawing attention to the similarities and discrepancies between this and other versions, presents an interesting study of the great romancer's methods of work; and by paraphrasing such portions of the MS. as are repeated in the published stories above named, imparts to the whole the character of a complete and rounded tale. The publication of this precious MS. has created wide attention and interest in the literary world. The first part was published in the last January number, and each succeeding part has but added to the interest then created.

The "White House," to most people means a flat, two-story, unpicturesque white house, as the view generally given of it shows the several plain north front; but there are many other views of the home of our president, and we are indebted to Demorest's Magazine for laying them before us. The May number of this popular Magazine literally takes you to Washington from every point of view, as well as its charming surroundings. The seven beautiful illustrations will give you a better idea of the nation's Executive Mansion than you could possibly gain by personal visit; and never before has it been so fully and beautifully illustrated. This feature alone will make the May number of Demorest's Magazine a phenomenon in the world of sale; and those who are so fortunate as to possess it, will find in it a fund of information and amusement, containing, as it does, nearly two hundred illustrations, embellishing such articles as "A May Festival in Florence," "Transformations of a Butterfly," "The Stellar Universe," "The Fairies of the Plains," "Modeling in Glass," "Kindergarten Work and Play for the Home," etc. Besides, in this number Ella Wheeler Wilcox commences an intensely interesting story; and two old pictures, "I Will," make it doubly attractive. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York.

The First Step.
Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into nervous prostration. You need a nerve tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great nerve tonic and alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored and the liver and kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50cts. at C. A. Wells' drug store.
